HOOSIER FELONS GIVE SELVES UP TO POLICE POSSE

Bid for Freedom is Blasted by Hunger and Fatigue

Champaign, Ill., May 4.—(AP)—Four convicts who rode out of the Indiana state prison at Michigan City in a freight car were in the county jail here today, their bid for freedom blasted by hunger, fatigue and a posse.

The fugitives surrendered meekly, without resistance, to 14 officers who surrounded them as they trudged along a railroad track near Mahomet, Ill., last night.

Their capture ended less than 36 hours of liberty during which they abducted a motorist and stole two cars. The fugitives, who had neither eaten nor slept since the escape, appeared more concerned about food and rest than their return to prison.

The convicts, all serving long terms for robbery, were Ernest Powell, 35; Ernest Grigsby, 38; Wilbur Dawson, 36, and Frank Mears, 34. They escaped Monday afternoon by cutting a trap door in a box car and hiding in the car until it was shunted outside the walls.

Sheriff Clarence Roth of Champaign county and 13 state police officers headed by Sgt. Harry Harper seized the convicts on a tip telephoned by a farmer living near the railroad tracks.

Three Wear Prison Garb
One of the quartet was wearing clothing taken from Melvin Berling, 23, the motorist they abducted at Michigan City and who was released unharmed at Kankakee, Ill., a few hours later. The others still wore prison garb.

Officers concentrated the search in this district after finding Breining's car abandoned near Rantoul. Sheriff Roth said the fugitives on route 119 at 1:30 A. M. (C. S. T.) yesterday and then walked into Rantoul where they stole another car. It was abandoned at the western city limits of Champaign.

The convicts said they planned the escape for six months and that they were walking toward Taylorville when seized. One of them said the police had passed them several times on the road without recognizing them, but that the officers who made the capture "looked like an army of 30."

Warden Louis E. Kunkel of the prison informed Sheriff Roth by telephone the convicts would be returned to Michigan City tonight.

Second Car Stolen
Lieut. M. C. Baughman of the state police said the second car stolen by the fugitives was owned by C. M. Schalk of Rantoul and was taken there at 2 A. M. yesterday.

Authorities considered the possibility the convicts were headed for a hideout 25 miles northwest of Danville where Federal Agent William R. Ramsey of Peoria was fatally wounded yesterday.

Ramsey was slain in a gun battle with Joe Earlywine, wanted for questioning about a bank robbery. Earlywine was shot to death by officers. Fred Steffler, seized at the scene of the shooting, is a brother-in-law of Mears.

DIXON WORKMAN BADLY BURNED IN STERLING PLANT

Ray Wakenight of Assembly Park, this city, an employee of the Northwestern Barb Wire Co. at Sterling, was the most seriously burned of several workers at the plant at about 11 o'clock last night, when a ladle of molten metal splashed into a pool of water exploded.

Wakenight and two other seriously burned workmen—G. A. Forsam of Sterling and Joe Young of Tampico—suffered second degree burns from the hips up, and are patients in the Home hospital in Sterling.

The metal splashed over several other workmen, but none was burned enough to require more than first aid treatment except Randolph Beaman. He was treated at the hospital, but returned home later.

Dr. Douglas Hyde Chosen President Of Ireland Today

Dublin, May 4.—(AP)—Dr. Douglas Hyde, bushy mustached historian and retired university professor, was formally elected president of Ireland today, by acclamation.

The ceremony took place at the government buildings before representatives of all the political parties of the former Irish Free State. Later Prime Minister Eamon De Valera gave a luncheon honoring the new 78-year-old Protestant head of the Catholic state.

Election of Dr. Hyde resulted from his acceptance of an invitation from Ireland's two largest political parties—De Valera's Fianna Fail and the opposition Fine Gael—to become the first head of the new government.

All Time Record

Joliet, Ill., May 4.—(AP)—The population of the two penitentiaries here reached an all-time peak today when Warden Joseph E. Ragen reported 5,954 men and women were confined in the Statesville and the Joliet prisons.

The previous high was 5,950 established in 1933 when Cook county State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney was in the midst of a concerted drive against parole violators and other offenders.

Ragen reported that 3,876 prisoners were in Statesville; the old prison had 1,744; the prison farm 147; and the diagnostic hospital 187.

Ragen said the two institutions were designed to hold between 3,500 and 4,000 prisoners.

BLUEPRINTS OF BIGGEST FLEET ARE PREPARED

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—An augmented force of draftsmen and engineers bent over drawing boards at the navy department today, preparing designs for the 72 new ships authorized by the billion-dollar naval extension program.

Their work was laid out for them by the Senate's two-to-one endorsement of the bill yesterday. The House already had approved the measure, which makes possible the mightiest fleet in the nation's history.

The navy, anticipating that Congress would carry out President Roosevelt's request for a 20 per cent increase in tonnage, already had increased its draftsmen, who now number 265.

The expansion bill authorizes the construction but provides no funds. Informal officials predicted the first request for accompanying appropriations would go to Congress next January.

The Senate vote on the bill was 66 to 28. Seven Republicans and 49 Democrats supported it against the opposition of 17 Democrats, 7 Republicans, 2 Farmer-Laborites, 1 Independent and 1 Progressive.

A joint House and Senate committee now must compose differences between the Senate and House versions. There appeared to be only two real issues—an authorization for a $3,000,000 dirigible and a $12,000,000 authorization for experiment with inventions.

If put into effect by annual appropriations, the 10-year expansion program will increase the navy's fighting strength by 50 to 75 per cent, although a tonnage increase of only about 23 per cent is authorized.

To Send Special Agent's Body To His Seattle Home

Danville, May 4.—(AP)—The body of William R. Ramsey, Jr., slain special agent of the federal bureau of investigation, will be sent to his former home in Seattle, Wash., for interment probably tonight.

The widow, Mabel, his ten-month-old baby Barbara Ann, and the mother, Mrs. William R. Ramsey, Sr., of Seattle, will accompany the body they said today. Mrs. Ramsey was enroute to her son's bedside by plane when he died early Tuesday.

The body of Joe Earlywine, Indiana ex-convict killed in the fight in which Ramsey was fatally wounded, will be sent to Circleville, Ind., Thursday for burial. Relatives appeared today to claim the body.

Other officers present at the battle said they believed Ramsey turned and fired the shot that killed Earlywine as he staggered from the bedroom scene of the gunplay, badly wounded.

Good Detective

Chicago, May 4.—(AP)—James Grimes was walking home from a police station, where he had gone to report the theft of his car, when he passed three men rolling an automobile wheel down the street.

"Would you like to buy a good wheel?" one of them asked Grimes. He recognized it as belonging to his car, notified police, saw the men arrested, and found the rest of his car in an alley.

Action of Ohio Court Stays Death In Electric Chair for Mrs. Hahn

Columbus, O., May 4.—(AP)—Her escape from death in the electric chair, however temporary, elated Anna Marie Hahn today.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant of the Ohio supreme court yesterday sanctioned her appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, which is not expected to consider the case until next fall.

"What a relief!" exclaimed Joseph H. Hodin, one of Mrs. Hahn's attorneys, who hastened to Ohio penitentiary to inform the blonde Cincinnati poison-murderess that

RESIDENTS' FEUD ENDED BY TRUCE HERE THIS MORN

Kentucky Youth Held in Jail on Charge of Assault

A number of residents of the west end of the city agreed to a truce at the police station this morning and by so doing terminated a feud which last night caused damage to property, heads and peace of mind. Glass in automobile windows was reported shattered with stones, torrid language was said to have flown freely, and one of the victims of the feud bore evidence of an allegation that a baseball bat had been brought into use in defense of the purity and sanctity of a home and fireside. With the flying of the white flag this morning, all agreed that no complaints would be filed and only the warmest friendship would prevail in the future.

Kentucky Youth Held
Tom Eubanks, 19, of Louisville, Ky., is held in the county jail in default of a $20 fine on an intoxication charge, while Chief Van Bibber is awaiting return of a report on the prisoner's fingerprints. Eubanks was arrested by Patrolman Bohnstiel last night after he was reported to have slapped two small girls who passed him on Seventh-street and Depot avenue.

Albert Reynolds, 50, of Chicago, who has been working at Grand Detour, was taken from the "head end" of a west bound North-Western passenger train yesterday afternoon by Patrolmen Glessner and Jones after a report had been received at the police station that he was attempting to pass forged checks in several places of business. This morning a fine of $200 and costs on an intoxication charge was suspended upon Reynolds' promise to leave Dixon and never return.

Chief Van Bibber and Patrolman Jones went to the rehabilitated hobo camp at the east end of Broadway street this afternoon, where another campaign of destruction was launched on the equipment and all occupants were escorted from the city, via I. C. tracks.

Hon. Roy O. West to Address Men's Club

The men's club of the Dixon Methodist Episcopal church is again bringing to the community a distinguished speaker in the person of Roy O. West of Chicago next Tuesday evening. Mr. West is a man of wide interests, including politics, civic affairs, education, and religion. He served as Secretary of the Interior during part of President Coolidge's administration. Chicago and the middle-west have again and again called upon him for leadership in different fields.

Mr. West is president of the Board of Trustees of DePaul University of Greencastle, Ind., and is an active member of the St. James Methodist Episcopal church of Chicago. Mrs. LeGrand Cannon, 122 E. Third street is his daughter.

Henry Warner will act as toastmaster and the meeting is open to both men and women. The club meets at 6:30 o'clock for dinner and in view of the demand for tickets every person who plans to be present must not only make a reservation but must have his tickets in advance. Tickets may be had from Earl Kennedy, Paul Armstrong, Leslie Hinkle, Henry Hey and Dr. A. M. McNicol.

Dizzy Dean's Arm Is X-rayed Today

Chicago, May 4.—(AP)—The $185,000 pitching arm of Dizzy Dean, Chicago Cubs' hurler, was x-rayed today by Dr. John F. Davis, Cubs' physician, to determine if anything is seriously wrong.

"I think the arm is all right," Dr. Davis said, "but I'd not be justified in saying anything until I can see the x-ray plates later this afternoon. We ought to know something then."

Dean has won three games for the Cubs against no losses but finished the nine-innings in only one of his victories.

Director Orville Westgor is seeking about ten cars to transport the orchestra to Normal.

Insurgent, Loyal Troops Shifting Battle Fronts

Hendaye, France (At the Spanish Frontier) May 4.—(AP)—Both insurgent and government troops were shifted to the Castellan front today in preparation for an insurgent drive from Terdel toward Valencia.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco facing formidable government positions behind a line of rivers on the eastern front from the Pyrenees to Tortosa, was said to have weakened his armies in those sectors, leaving the government superior in manpower.

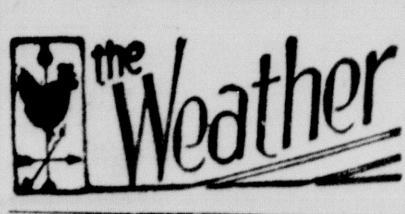

The reinforced insurgent right flank, extending from Teruel northeast to Alaiaga, was moved slowly forward in a southeasterly direction through the Gudar mountains. The insurgents sought to gain control of northern approaches to the Teruel highway to Sagunto where government fortifications have blocked the road to Valencia. At least 50 persons were killed and many wounded yesterday when insurgent artillery again cut loose on battered Madrid.

The shells hit the British embassy building and the British consul's home was struck three times but no one was injured.

House Relieves Courts' Burdens

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—The House, told that many courts are too heavily burdened, has passed a bill authorizing appointment of six new federal circuit court judges and 18 district judges.

The Senate recently approved 27 new judgeships, but congressional leader predicted today a joint Senate-House committee would adjust the differences in time for final action before adjournment.

Sylvester Brierton to Be Committed to Chester Institution for Insane

Jury Delivers Verdict After 8 Minutes of Deliberation

Sylvester Brierton, 54 year old Palmyra township farmer, will enter Chester penitentiary for criminally insane as the result of the verdict of a jury in the circuit court, which this morning deliberated but eight minutes to find him insane. The jury retired at 11:10 A. M. and returned at 11:18 with the verdict which Foreman Webster Poole delivered to Judge Leon A. Zick.

A mittimus will be issued out of the Lee county circuit court, directing the Illinois department of public welfare to admit Brierton to the psychiatric division of the state penitentiary at Chester. Less than an hour and a half was required in disposing of the case and State's Attorney Edward Jones made only a brief statement to the jury and offered no witnesses. Attorney Jones explained that a person who is insane at the time a crime is committed can not be tried for the crime, but can be confined in psychiatric division of the state penitentiary at Chester.

If Condition Improves
"If, however, his conditions improve, he may be brought back to be tried for the crime with which he now stands indicted," the county prosecutor told the jury and closed with the remarks, "knowing he will be confined and from the opinions of the physicians who have testified on the witness stand this morning, probably for the remainder of his life, the state offers no resistance."

Brierton sat between Sheriff Ward Miller and Deputy Gilbert Finch during the hearing of testimony this morning with a test cigar in his mouth the greater part of the time. He commented to the officers on the testimony given by the witnesses and found no fault with their statements. But as he left the court room to return to his cell in the county jail, he expressed some dissatisfaction with the proceeding, but apparently realizing that he was not to be released from custody, asked that his son-in-law Ernest Rhodes be instructed to occupy the Brierton farm three miles north of Dixon. Sheriff Miller is planning to deliver Brierton to Chester before the close of the week.

Bracken Conducts Examinations
Attorney Robert Bracken conducted the examination of all of the witnesses. Attorney Elwin Wadsworth filed a petition with the court, bearing the signatures of Richard O. Brierton and Mrs. Annie Beatrice Eberly, brother and sister of "Vel" Brierton, requesting a trial upon the issue of his sanity, and stating that for some time past he was insane.

In selecting the jury but one of the first 12 names called failed to serve. George Wolf of South Dixon stated that through his acquaintance with Brierton he had formed an opinion. The remainder of the jury was composed of: Stephen Schnorr of Alto; Henry Smith, Oscar Berga, Glen Thompson and Edward Blum of Amboy; Clarence Drummond and John Stadel of Ashton; Bowden Jesse of Bradford; A. E. Marth, Webster Poole, John D. Flint and Thomas Doyle of Dixon, and Leo Downs of Hamilton.

Jury Selected
About five minutes was required in the selection of the jury. Attorney Bracken in his opening statement to the jury stated that it would be taken for granted that each juror had read or heard of the case, adding that the proceeding was solely to determine the question of the sanity of Sylvester Brierton. Hastily the jury was selected by fours and as rapidly as selection was made, State's Attorney Jones accepted the jury, and reserved making an opening statement following that of Attorney Bracken.

Dr. Charles C. Rowley, psychiatrist member of the staff of the Dixon state hospital, with 25 years experience in this capacity in Colorado, Wisconsin and Illinois, was the first and chief witness.

Upon examination, Dr. Rowley testified in substance as follows, as to the particular form of insanity suffered by Brierton: "It is true, it is not, that paranoia may manifest itself in an acute outbreak, but that as a matter of fact, it is a chronic condition." Attorney Bracken asked the witness, who answered, "That is true."

"It is a fact, it is not, that a paranoid patient suffers from delusions of persecution, and often commits crimes for the purpose of protecting himself against his supposed persecutors, even to the extent of committing murder?" The witness was asked, replying, "That is true."

"It is a fact, it is not, that the reasoning ability of a paranoid seems to be retained as long as it does not come into controversy relating to some supposed wrongs done to him?" "That is true," Dr. Rowley replied.

"It is true, it is not, that a paranoid's mentality is generally such that he appears sane on all matters which do not relate to his delusions of persecution?" "That is also true," was the witness' reply.

Either Sane or Insane
"It is, however, a further fact, it is not, that no person is sane in all respects except one; in other words, that if he is a paranoid, generally speaking, he will be insane on more than one subject?" to which the witness replied, "Generally speaking, he will be."

"Generally speaking, it is a fact, it is not, that paranoics feel that great injury is being done to them, and for that reason are likely to start lawsuits, make accusations, write letters and continually complain of their wrongs and grievances to whoever will listen to them?" Attorney Bracken asked. "That is true," was the reply of the psychiatrist.

"Is it not a fact that the reasoning of paranoics may appear logical except insofar as it is based on false premises and their delusions of persecution?" the witness was asked, who replied in the affirmative.

Plan Revenge
"Is it not a fact that it is often impossible or difficult to tell whether their complaints are based on delusions or facts, and that only investigation into the accusations and a thorough examination of the patients themselves develop the actual condition?" was the next question to which Dr. Rowley replied, "That is true."

"Many paranoics are of a type which ascribe their delusions of their disease to the act of some relatives or friend, are they not?" "That is true," Dr. Rowley replied.

"And these same people may plan revenge and murderous attempts on the life of the person who is supposedly attempting to injure them?"

A. "That is a fact."
Q. "Paranoics are generally considered the most dangerous of the insane, are they not?"

A. "That is a fact."
Q. "This is particularly so because they are able to hide the fact that they are insane, is that true?"

A. "That is true."
Q. "Is it a fact, it is not, that the ordinary type of insanity is less dangerous than the paranoid, owing in particular to the fact that he is able to hide his delusions?"

A. "That is also true."
Q. "That is also true."

Told of Examination
Q. "Doctor, have you examined Sylvester Brierton? If you say you have, please state when and where?"

A. "I examined Sylvester Brierton in the Lee county jail on April 28 of this year and spent about three and one-quarter hours with him."

Proceeding with the result of his observations, Dr. Rowley stated that Brierton probably was always over-sexed. He showed little outside interest and appeared to think that he was an excellent farmer, but was hampered by his physical condition. Suddenly he appeared to become very jealous of his wife and was positive in his own mind that she was untrue to him to the extent that he consulted several lawyers. Eventually relatives, friends, doctors and lawyers, did not believe his stories and Brierton took the law into his own hands, Dr. Rowley continued.

"He told me he was being poisoned, that his wife was poisoning his food, then broke up this conversation and remarked, 'give me liberty or give me death'. Dr. Rowley continued in recounting his visit with Brierton. "He was dissatisfied with several attorneys and said three of these he maintained were crooks. He went into great detail about sex, and told of having set traps for his wife, without success. His home life he told me was only a 'hell on earth,' and further stated that he would not have shot his wife had she not threatened to get one-half of the farm and a former hired man, the other half."

Believed Over-Sexed
"He believes himself to be over-sexed and also believes himself to be somewhat of a hero for having saved the farm for his son through the act he has committed."

State's Attorney Jones directed but one question to Dr. Rowley: "In your opinion, doctor, does Sylvester Brierton know the difference between right and wrong?"

After 650 Years

Williamson, W. Va., May 4.—(AP)—The nation's oldest oak tree, the 650-year-old great white oak of Mingo, apparently is dead. State Forester D. B. Griffin reported today.

Leaves failed to come out this year for the first time and Griffin said a fungus which grows only on dead or dying trees was noticed several months ago.

The Smithsonian Institution determined from borings that the Mingo oak was the oldest of its species in the United States. The oak is 146 feet tall and has a girth of 30 feet at the base.

FUNDS SCARCE TO ALLEVIATE UNEMPLOYMENT

Springfield, Ill., May 4.—(AP)—As three groups dealing with the relief problem assembled for a conference with Governor Horner, Finance Director S. L. Nudelmann questioned today whether the state treasury has surplus funds available for increasing unemployment appropriations.

Revenues have dropped almost ten per cent during the past two months, Nudelmann said, with sales tax collections down $1,154,000 in March and April. The treasury has a surplus, but the finance director said it might be needed for regular expenses if the recession continues.

Treasurer John C. Martin, who is chairman of the Illinois Emergency relief commission, said the I. E. R. C. has held that more funds are needed for relief.

Downstate members of the legislative relief commission headed by Senator D. T. Woodard of Grayville indicated they would object to increasing the present state appropriation of $2,900,000 monthly to the I. E. R. C.

To get recommendations for special legislative session action, the governor met this afternoon with the I. E. R. C., the Woodard commission and the Chicago investigating council headed by Walter L. Gregory.

Martin said the I. E. R. C. has renewed its 1937 proposal, rejected by the legislature, to put all forms of assistance work under the public welfare department and also unite local recommendations.

Similar recommendations are understood to be in the report of the Gregory commission. Woodard said the legislature so far haven't agreed on how relief should be handled. Some state house sources expressed the private opinion that injection of politics in relief might be increased if it would be handled by welfare department personnel.

Story Of Gibbon's Detention By Japs Related By Wife

Seattle, May 4.—(AP)—The story of Elwyn Gibbon's detention by Japanese was told here today by the American flier's wife as she arrived from the Orient and learned he had sailed yesterday from Yokohama after having been held six days. He had been flying in China.

Mrs. Gibbons told interviewers: "Japanese police lined up everyone—English, Germans, French, Americans—in the lounge of the ship and asked them if they planned to stay in Japan and if they had been in China, and about their parents, and everything else they could think of."

"I didn't realize what was happening when they took my husband off the vessel, x x x I just had time to wave to him, and that was all. I thought the Japanese would arrest me, too, so when the ship sailed, after 24 hours in port, I went with it. We were four days out of Yokohama before I heard Elwyn was all right."

Mrs. Gibbons is a daughter of Mrs. Anthony Lindeen, Galesburg, Ill.

CHINESE HORDE ROLLS BACK JAP LINES 12 MILES

800,000 of Chiang's Reinforced Troops Take Offensive

Shanghai, May 4.—(AP)—A general Chinese offensive all along the south Shantung front was declared by the Chinese command to have smashed through the center of the Japanese lines at Tairchwang today and to have advanced 12 miles.

Chinese advance guards fought forward five miles in a night battle, adding these gains to the seven miles they rolled back and buckled up the Japanese lines in the first assault yesterday.

The field commanders of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek declared the tide of war was turning in their favor.

His high command hopefully awaiting bulletins from the front said they expected an epochal Japanese defeat similar to that which humbled the divisions of Nippon at Tairchwang a month ago.

The second great Japanese offensive through Shantung province, this time greatly reinforced to wipe out the previous defeat, was definitely checked, they declared.

Japanese army spokesmen were silent.

34,000 Japs Killed
Chinese sources estimated the weary, outnumbered Japanese army had lost 34,000 men, killed in fighting in recent days about Tancheng and Pihsten on the south and east sides of the salient of which Tairchwang formed the west side.

There was no way, however, of verifying these estimates from neutral sources.

A vigorous Chinese army believed to have been reinforced to 800,000 men for the counter assault in Shantung province, sought to put an end once and for all to this phase of the Japanese offensive which had for its major objective the linking of conquests in north China and the Japanese occupied areas about Shanghai and Nanking.

Foreign military observers conceded the Japanese were in a precarious position along the jagged line of many salients and that if the Chinese offensive continued vigorously it might push the Japanese back many miles over bloodily-won territory and end their threat at the Lunglai railway.

Inland Steel Asks Court to Set Aside NLRB Order On CIO

Chicago, May 4.—(AP)—Inland Steel Company asked the United States circuit court of appeals today to review and set aside the national labor relations board order directing it to bargain with the C. I. O. and sign a contract.

The board returned its order April 5 against the member of the "little steel" combine which underwent strikes last summer over the issue of a written contract granting collective bargaining rights.

The petition filed with the court of appeals contended the order was beyond the power of the board and violated the national labor relations act and the federal constitution.

Eccles Denies He Disagreed With Ford At Luncheon

Washington, May 4.—(AP)—Reports that Chairman Marriner Eccles of the federal reserve board had engaged in a dispute with Henry Ford at the recent White House conference are "entirely false," Eccles said last night in a formal statement.

Eccles said he and the automobile manufacturer had not even discussed deficit financing, the automobile business, or government policies. He described the conference, at which President Roosevelt was host, as "a most informal and friendly affair."

STABILIZATION CONVERSATION IS UNDERTAKEN

French Cabinet Moves to End Monetary Uncertainty

Paris, May 4 —(AP)— Officials said today that conversations had been started among the United States, France and Great Britain looking toward amendment of their accord of October, 1936, for monetary stabilization.

Bankers said they believed the talks were designed to facilitate a new readjustment downward of the value of the franc.

They said stabilization of the franc at about 35 to the dollar (286 cents to the franc) and 175 to the English pound) was under consideration.

The conversations, which were originated by France, had a prelude in last week's visit to London by Premier Edouard Daladier and Foreign Minister George Bonnet.

This, officials declared, was followed by talks at the treasury in Washington among Secretary Morgenthau, French Ambassador Count Rene St. Quentin and British Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay.

May Float Loan

If the conversations succeed, officials said, there will be a declaration of new monetary policy by the three powers, accompanied by flotation of France's projected national defense loan of fifteen billion francs (about $450,000,000).

Officials explained that an emergency meeting of the cabinet this morning, convened at the unusual hour of 8:30 in the presence of President Albert Lebrun, was devoted exclusively to a study of France's financial situation.

Daladier and his finance minister, Paul Marchandeau, then told the ministers of the tripartite conversations.

The dollar, which had remained nearly stationary in early trading on the Bourse, later rose to close officially at 33.93 francs (making the franc worth 2.95 cents). The pound closed at 169.75 francs.

Stocks Boomed

Stocks boomed on the Bourse. Government bonds, which ordinarily would have slumped on prospects of a cheaper franc, also rose. Traders apparently shared the belief the cabinet would make an effort definitely to stabilize the franc at a new level, ending months of monetary uncertainty.

The franc opened on the Bourse at 33.15 to the dollar, only one cent more than yesterday's official closing of 33.14, but the pound was quoted at 169.875 francs, almost five francs more than yesterday.

Before the Bourse opened banks had quoted the dollar at 33.70 francs.

Last night Daladier, Bonnet and Marchandeau held long conferences and there were telephone consultations with Washington and London.

A cabinet statement was promised late today and the premier was expected to address the nation tonight.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

A large delegation from the Polo Brethren church was present at the Brethren church last night in the observance of National Music Week. Their choir assisted by their pastor, the Rev. Jesse Baker, gave a splendid musical program consisting of chorus work, duets, quartets and solos. Two little girls sang two numbers which were appreciated very much. Mr. Baker gave a short talk in which he told of the development of music and singing down through the centuries and how the peoples of the earth have been influenced by the singing of those songs. It has been said that singing fortifies health, widens culture, refines the intelligence, enriches the imagination, makes for happiness and endows life with an added zest. The church is pleased with the interest manifested in the series of music programs planned for the week, and it is believed there will be a deeper appreciation of good singing and music. Singing awakens living interest in the beauties of music and admits one to the rich and varied treasures of the literature of song. Tonight the service will begin at 7:45 and will be an interesting service to which all are invited. Thursday night there will be a large delegation from the Bethel Evangelical church and they will have charge of the service. Friday night, the closing service of the series, the program will be given by a chorus of over twenty voices from the Brethren Franklin Grove church. The public is invited to attend these services.

MOULTRIE JUDGE NAMED IN THIRD DISTRICT MEET

Springfield, Ill., May 4—(AP)— Circuit Judge Joseph Lyons McLaughlin of Sullivan, nominated on the fourth ballot, carried the Democratic banner into the Third district Supreme Court campaign today.

Leading throughout the judicial convention, the 54-year-old jurist gained 50 votes on four roll calls late yesterday, with the chief opposition coming from two other Circuit judges, Casper Platt of Danville and Chalmers C. Taylor of Bloomington.

McLaughlin was regarded as the favored choice of the Horner administration. Although the governor professed no individual interest in the nine candidates, several administration leaders were active in lining up delegations for the Moultrie county man, who was elected to the Circuit bench in 1933.

McLaughlin, a native of Salem who was educated at Southern Normal and the University of Illinois, had practiced law at Champaign, Decatur and Sullivan. He is a brother of Walter W. McLaughlin of Decatur, former director of agriculture in the Horner cabinet.

At Decatur Friday the Third district Republicans will select a candidate to run against McLaughlin in a special election June 27 to fill the Supreme Court vacancy caused by the death of Justice Lott R. Herrick of Farmer City.

FDR'S MAN WINS FLORIDA'S POLL

President's Supporter is Victor in Tuesday's Primary

By The Associated Press

Renomination of Senator Claude Pepper of Florida gave the Roosevelt administration a victory today in the first 1938 primary test of the president's popular support.

Shortly after he easily defeated four other candidates in the Democratic race, Pepper issued a statement calling on the people of his state to join forces with Roosevelt in restoring "a genuine and permanent prosperity."

The 37-year-old attorney, first chosen in 1936 to succeed the late Senator Duncan Fletcher, had been endorsed by James Roosevelt, the president's son and secretary.

In second place was Representative J. Mark Wilcox, who has opposed some administration measures and who called Pepper the president's "rubber stamp."

The vote in 938 of 1,376 precincts: Pepper 152,007; Wilcox 79,403; former Gov. Dave Sholtz 31,401. Two other candidates polled scattering votes.

Allen Walker of Winter Haven led Thomas Swanson of Fort Lauderdale in the Republican senatorial primary.

The Florida Democratic contest was the only one in four state primaries yesterday which had any national aspects.

Hitchcock Beaten

In Alabama, Senator Lister Hill was renominated without opposition. Another senator—70-year-old Herbert Hitchcock of South Dakota—lost a three-way contest for the Democratic nomination to former Governor Tom Berry.

J. Chandler Gurney, Republican nominee in 1936, was well ahead in the Republican senatorial primary, leading Governor Leslie Jensen and two other candidates.

The South Dakota gubernatorial nominations went to Harlan Bushfield, Republican, and Oscar Foshem, Democrat.

In the Democratic contest for Alabama's gubernatorial nomination, Frank M. Dixon of Birmingham, advocating retention of the state liquor store system, led four other candidates.

Incumbent house members in Alabama, Florida, South Dakota and Indiana who sought renomination were leading on the basis of incomplete returns.

Speaker Bankhead was unopposed in his Alabama district. In one Alabama contest attracting widespread attention, Representative Joe Starnes was leading former Senator Thomas J. Heflin, who was trying a political comeback.

LABOR ACT AND BOARD TARGETS OF NEW ATTACKS

Called Greatest Drawback to Good Industrial Relations

Washington May 4—(AP)—William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors Corporation, told the United States Chamber of Commerce today that the Wagner labor act is "the largest drawback to good industrial relations."

Discussing the strikes that have tied up his company's plants at various times in recent months, Knudsen said in a prepared address:

"The National Labor Relations Board set up to administer the act makes no pretense even of paying any attention to the employer's side of the case."

"He can only be heard when he is summoned, and he knows before he goes that there is no record of a single decision where he has had a ghost of a show, so what?"

The automobile manufacturer's speech renewed an attack on the labor board that started yesterday when Senator Burke (D-Neb.), addressing the labor section of the Chamber of Commerce convention, demanded that the members of the labor board resign. He proposed that a new board be appointed to represent the viewpoints of labor, management and the public.

Seek Investigation

The labor section, after hearing Burke, adopted a resolution asking an investigation by Congress of the "effects" and administration of the Wagner act, which created the board as a means of assuring workers of the right of collective bargaining.

The resolution probably will be presented to the main body of the convention Thursday.

A resolution asking amendment of the Wagner act to require registration of labor organizations was adopted last night by representatives of seven unaffiliated unions, in session here. Publication of union financing also was asked.

Frank Bow, counsel for the central council of the Republic Steel Corporation, said the meeting was attended by representatives of employee organizations in Republic Steel, H. J. Heinz Company, Duquesne Light & Power, Remington Rand, Inc., Jones & Laughlin Corporation, Pressed Steel Car Company, and National Steel Corporation.

"Not Discouraged"

Knudsen in his speech expressed the belief business is not discouraged, "despite all that is said, against it."

Tracing the history of sit-down strikes in the General Motors plants beginning early last year, he estimated the loss to the men in wages as a result of the first strike "was around 30,000,000 hours, or about $25,000,000."

At the outset of the strikes, he said, "the first reaction was rather bad."

"The usual steps in law were taken with no results, as everyone's eyes were directed at Washington for an expression as to what was law anyway. The more Washington vacillated, the more mob hysteria was employed by the C. I. O. union."

"A feeble attempt by the department of labor to justify possession of plants in defiance of law did not help matters any; in fact, to this day only public opinion x x x has condemned sit-down strikes."

The labor situation today, he said, is better than last year.

J. J. Peley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said in a prepared address that "the present difficulties of the railroads are due largely to the conditions established by public policies" and can only be remedied by a change in those policies.

Festival of Children's Music at Church Sunday

The second annual festival of children's music will be held Sunday in the Dixon Methodist Episcopal church at 4 P. M.
Interest in music by children's choirs is growing rapidly within the community in the last couple of years until at present there are at least eight or ten junior choirs singing regularly in the churches. This year, as last, each individual choir under the supervision of its own director will sing one number of the choir's own choosing. The concluding number will be by the mass choirs of more than 100 voices under the direction of Ralph Nielsen.
The public is cordially invited to attend this music festival and indications point to a large audience. Nothing can be more important for the future place of music in the churches than to encourage youthful singers in what they are doing.

Rural Commencement Held at High School

Last night a program was held in the high school auditorium which attracted a huge crowd. The event marked the graduation exercises of several rural schools. There were 74 graduates present who had completed their courses in elementary education and received diplomas which entitle them to enter the high schools. It was the first time that the rural schools of the vicinity surrounding Dixon have been able to combine their graduation exercises in a commodious surrounding where the large attendance of families and relatives could be comfortably accommodated, and the event will long be remembered by both graduates, teachers and parents.

The stage of the auditorium was beautifully banked with palms, ferns and a large basket of snapdragons. A bouquet of roses graced the speaker's rostrum. The program opened with several exercises by the Dixon high school string ensemble, and during the opening, six uniformed Boy Scouts from Troop 89 ushered the visitors to their seats. Each graduate had been furnished with a block of seats for his or her family and guests.

At 8 o'clock a procession composed of pupils, teachers and those participating in the program marched to the stage and took their places. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. George D. Nielsen, pastor of the Grace Evangelical church. The Father and Son sextette of this city sang two delightful numbers after which little Miss Betty Grimes was heard in three humorous readings.

Dr. Eugene Vest of this city was the guest speaker of the evening and he held the rapt attention of both members of the class and guests in his talk, "The Brave World." In the course of his remarks, he cited the advantages of the American youth today compared to the youth of foreign countries for advancement and opportunity for education. His talk which was delivered in a very impressive manner, should serve as an inspirational guide for each and every member of the class. His remarks were based upon his own personal observations made during his recent extensive tour through Europe.

Two Negro ballads were sung by the Father and Son sextette. County Superintendent of Schools L. W. Miller presented the diplomas to the largest class of rural graduates ever assembled at one center for the graduation program. One of the outstanding events of the evening was the presentation of a special award to Merle Topper, student at the White Temple school of which Miss Grace Jacobs is the teacher, for the distinctive record of not having been absent or tardy for eight consecutive years.

As the program closed and at the suggestion of the speaker of the evening, Dr. Eugene Vest, the entire assemblage of students and friends, arose and applauded County Superintendent L. W. Miller for his faithful and competent services from which the school children,

Smooth-Line Princess Slip

Marian Martin

PATTERN 9723
Because your Summer dresses are sheer it is important that the slip you wear with them follow smooth, unwrinkled lines. With this in mind Marian Martin has designed a Princess slip which you can make easily from Pattern 9723 and its accompanying Diagrammed Sew Chart. Its panelled lines fit with superb smoothness yet flare gracefully in the skirt. The straps are cut in one piece with the center panels to keep them from slipping. Make a petticoat from the same pattern to wear with your sun-back cotton frocks or make one in bright, rustly taffeta to wear under your street or travelling clothes. Order your pattern today!

Pattern 9723 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 slip requires 2½ yards 39-inch fabric.

Women's Clubs Hear Prediction of War

Chicago, May 4.—(AP)—J. Raymond Schutz, professor of sociology in Manchester college, North Manchester, Ind., predicted today that a war between Communism and Fascism in Europe was inevitable, and that America as a democracy might be forced to fight the winner.

Speaking at the annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, he urged the members of such organizations to be alert to preserve democratic principles. The course of history is changing rapidly these days, he said. "Right this moment Hitler and Mussolini are conferring in Rome. What can be the outcome? No one knows. A single agreement between them can change the course of history."

He said that if he had been speaking six years ago he would have taken a different view of the world situation, but in that short time three vitally important events have happened—Hitler has taken Austria, France has dictatorship and England has turned toward Fascism.

And the most distressing, he said, was "that the nation that should have been our ally in preserving democracy—England—is leaning toward Fascism." He saw more hope for survival of democracy if England, Canada and the United States were standing together.

Food Prices Lowest In Almost Four Years

Chicago, May 4.—(AP)—In sharp contrast to the high cost of food a year ago, the feeding of a family now can be done at the lowest prices in almost four years, survey of wholesale and retail markets disclosed today.
In the summer of 1937, May through half of September, the cost of the housewife's grocery basket rose to the highest point in six years, largely as a result of the drought of 1936. A sharp plunge since September, however, has put wholesale prices of important foodstuffs around 20 per cent below that level although they still are about 30 per cent higher than the low point reached early in 1933.

Meat led the break away from the September high in food prices. Latest figures on retail prices here show declines ranging from 4 to 11 per cent compared with a year ago while the drop from September 15 levels is from 7 to 26 per cent.
Other important foods are sharply lower than a year ago. The grains have been cut 35 to 55 per cent in market; butter is off 16 per cent; eggs 10 per cent; cheese 13 per cent; potatoes about 50 per cent; lard 31 per cent; fruits 5 to 50 per cent; and vegetables, 5 to 33 per cent.

Mothers, Daughters Banquet Held Monday

The annual Mothers and Daughters banquet of the Grace Evangelical church which was held on Monday evening, was another happy event to the group of 125 who attended.

Dinner was served on beautifully decorated tables, by husbands of the ladies. Mrs. Wilbur Schreiner, accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Wulbrandt at the piano, led the group in several choruses which were appropriate for the occasion.

The splendid program was announced by the toastmistress, Mrs. Austin Smith, and was as follows: Devotional—Mrs. Darrel Palmer. Piano duet—Donna Mae Palmer and Eileen Nielsen.
Toast to mothers—"A Christian Mother"—Miss Mildred Lincoln.
Vocal numbers—"Cradle Song" and "Juanita"—Junior choir quartet.

Toast to daughters—"A Christian Daughter"—Mrs. Lyle Melvin.
Talk by a Grandmother—Mrs. Archie Klein.

Violin solo—Donna Hanneken accompanied by Mrs. Orville Westger. Talk by great grandmother—Mrs. Mary Johann.

Reading—"Telling the Truth"—Mrs. Carl Withers of Mt. Morris.

Vocal numbers—"Mother" and "Jesus"—High school girls chorus. The speaker for the evening, Mrs. Wesley Tash of Chicago, presented many interesting and helpful ideas on the timely subject "The Place of Woman in the World Today."
Mrs. George D. Nielsen dismissed with prayer and the group departed expressing a hearty thanks for the lovely time and program.

Sterling and Dixon Church Men Meet

Forty men from the Presbyterian church joined with about the same number of Sterling Presbyterian men for a supper at 7 o'clock Monday night in the local Presbyterian church. The Dixon men furnished the supper and the Sterling group provided the program.

Warren Miller introduced W. H. Coppins of Dixon who welcomed the Sterling men on behalf of the Dixon church. The response was made by W. H. Rees. After the men had introduced themselves the program was turned over to Joshua Wild, president of the Sterling Tower club. Bobby Houston, eight year old lad, was the youngest of those present and Judge H. C. Ward, 83, was the oldest.

Spirited community singing was directed by W. A. Robinson, with L. L. Winn accompanist. A cornet solo was played by Harold Stone, accompanied at the piano by Miss Lavonne McNeil. Fred Honens entertained with a German dialect reading and a piano monologue entitled "Cats." There were two vocal selections, one from "Snow White" and the other, "Someday I'll find My Love," sung by John Honens. The main program attraction was the appearance of Dr. A. A. Goulding who mystified and delighted with his magical art. Unison of men in the Lord's prayer concluded the evening which was a pleasant affair for both groups.

Young People Enjoy Delightful Party

Monday afternoon Loreata Ann McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon S. McDonald, entertained six young friends in honor of her third birthday.

After playing a few games the children found places at the daintily decorated table. Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs presided as a centerpiece. Tiny dolls dressed in pastel organdy were favors for the girls and miniature ships for the boys.

A large birthday cake with three candles also graced the table. Snow White balloons of all colors floated above the table much to the delight of the children.

After a happy hour the young friends departed wishing Loreata Ann many more pleasant birthdays.

PA'S PRIVATE TITLE OF NOBILITY

The last few years have been pretty tough ones on Father.

The world has gone drifting off to nowhere like a Kansas corn-crib before a cyclone, and Father knows no more what it is all about than any other citizen. The job of supporting a family—in a world where jobs keep getting scarcer—is growing tougher and tougher; and to occupy his traditional position as the symbol of wisdom and the source of earthly security is getting to be an impossibly difficult task.

Nevertheless, Father still rates pretty well.

Optimist International, a service club organization, recently polled some 5000 American boys, asking them (among other things) to list "the greatest person now living."

The majority vote in this strange election was won by President Roosevelt; which, considering youth's natural bedazzlement by the White House, is only natural. Second place went to "Mother"—which, once again, is quite to be expected. But third place, high above people like Lindbergh, Joe DiMaggio and Buck Jones, went to Father.

Which ought to be heartening news for all the battle-weary dads of the land.

No one has ever taken the plain, ordinary, humble citizen of this country aside and put him under the microscope to find out just exactly what it is that he is fighting for. If the job is ever done, the investigators will undoubtedly discover that the most compelling motive he owns is the desire to look like a somebody in the eyes of his son.

That isn't the easiest thing to do, because the ordinary man has a pretty clear conception of his own unworthiness. Even if he happens to be a boss man, sitting behind a big desk and rejoicing in a gaudy title and a fat pay-check, he is all too conscious of the fact that he is only a cog in the business wheel after all, and that he could be replaced without too much trouble. And if he is one of the hired hands, as he usually is, hardly a day passes without reminding him of his insignificance.

But at home it is a little different. There somebody actually looks up to him, relies on his wisdom and his knowledge of life, trusts that he can do the impossible, and creates a private title of nobility for him.

Which makes all the difference in the world.

Life isn't easy, for most people.

Unless a man can draw strength from some outside source, he is apt to fail. And that source of strength, in most cases, is nothing else than the love and the trust in the heart of a youngster at home.

SPOTLIGHT CRUSADE

The organization, by press agents, of a "Blond Brigade" in New York for the stated purpose of preventing war arouses the same reaction in the stomach, strangely enough, as would the sight of the same blonds, for sweet publicity's sake, gaily coaxing the boys to the field of slaughter.

Anyway, the story released about these show girls describes a proposed plan of action that sounds about as effective as a wooden hair comb. In the event war actually breaks out, the girls propose merely to station themselves in attractive poses just in front of our own trenches, facing the enemy. Presumably the idea is that nobody could bring himself to shoot in the direction of a beautiful woman.

If the girls had studied history they never would have let such a suicidal suggestion escape their lips. If they're really sincere about the thing they might better distribute themselves in the same attractive poses in the camp of the enemy. Then while our opponents are busy fighting among themselves, we can simply walk in and take things over.

MEN, WATCH YOURSELVES

Introduction of brighter and brighter colors and fancier and fancier designs in the field of men's wear was given the attention of no less a person the other day than Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., the present ambassador to Poland.

Color in men's clothing is not merely on the way; it is here. The men are taking to it like ducks to water, and the trend is going gayer and gayer. The prospect of an unprecedented concern with sartorial finery among males imposes a certain obligation now.

Men! Resolve now for the future that you will not: Feel constrained to throw away a hat after wearing it three times; buy a tie that doesn't go with any of your shirts, and then buy a shirt for the new tie, and then have to buy a suit for the new shirt; try to make your new suit over into something better; consign your best clothes to life in a bureau drawer—or kill yourself molding your figure to a new style.

Washington — How Nathan Strauss' U. S. Housing Authority is helping move industry from the north to the cheap-labor south is revealed in an innocent little item which appeared recently in a press release of the Housing Authority.

It stated that $900,000 had been earmarked for housing construction at Gadsden, Alabama.

What the Housing Authority did not say, however, was that this money was to build new workers' dwellings so that the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company could move factories from Akron, where labor is unionized, to the non-union south.

Another thing which the Housing Authority announcement did not mention was that the National Association of Manufacturers, bitter opponents of the New Deal, was working behind the scenes with the Chamber of Commerce in Gadsden to help get the $900,000 and thus make use of the New Deal.

The Goodyear company already has a small factory at Gadsden, and is reported ready to move other units from labor-troubled Akron to Alabama, where CIO organizers have a hard time staying out of jail, and where local judges are not averse to overruling the National Labor Relations Board.

Manufacturers association lobbyists privately are boasting about their strategy in getting the government to pay for "company houses." Some of the southern congressmen who helped block the wage-hour bill also point out that wages can now be even lower, because of the New Deal's subsidy for housing.

Note—Gadsden is a city of 24,000 population, compared with Akron's 255,000. Gadsden is earmarked for $900,000 of U. S. housing funds, while Akron, ten times the size, is earmarked for only $1,800,000.

In addition to Goodyear, the Dwight Textile Manufacturing Company and Tom Girdler's Republic Steel have plants at Gadsden and could use more U. S. "company houses."

Henry Ford's Lincoln

When Henry Ford drove to the White House last week, he rode in the only Lincoln car owned by any branch of the Federal government in Washington.

Prior to the NRA, Lincolns were popular with government executives, but after the row between the Ford company and the NRA, they were banned.

The one lone Lincoln in which Henry Ford drove to the White House is owned by the Justice Department for the use of Attorney General Cummings and happens to be an armored car. Originally Cummings rode in an armored Pierce-Arrow, but in manufacturing it, the mistake was made of using boiler plate for armor, which made the car so heavy that the body rested on the axles. To remedy this, the springs were jacked up. The attorney general took one trip to Atlantic City which nearly jolted him to pieces. He returned by train.

The armored Lincoln which replaces it is made bullet proof by the use of much lighter metal, and rides very easily.

The president also rides in an armored car, a Cadillac. The give-away as to whether or not he is in an armored car is the thick bank type of glass used to withstand bullets. This makes driving difficult at night due to the number of laminations of the non-shattering material in the glass.

Note—Until recently there was one other armored Lincoln in government service, a car which had been confiscated from a Chicago gang leader and was so skillfully altered that it had almost as much pep and getaway as a conventional model. This car was used by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for some time.

Ambition Remakes Europe

The inside story of how the arms embargo against Spain came to be imposed never has been told, and goes back largely to the personal ambition of one man.

Regarded by Secretary of State Hull as the greatest foreign policy mistake of the Roosevelt administration, the Spanish embargo was imposed while both he and his now under secretary, Sumner Welles, were in Buenos Aires during the Pan American conference in December and January, 1936-37.

At that time, however, Sumner Welles was not undersecretary, and there was considerable speculation as to whether he or Judge Walton Moore would get this important appointment.

Welles and Moore were then Assistant Secretaries of State, and during the absence of both Hull and Welles, Moore became acting secretary. Moore used to be congressman from Alexandria, Virginia, is steeped in folklore of Washington and Jefferson, and has the manner of one who at any moment will clap his hands and summon a colored butler laden with silver tray and mint juleps.

But, coupled with his Virginia charm, Moore, although 79 years old, has the ambition of a college youngster. He was determined to do something to become Under Secretary of State, and while Hull and Welles were in South America he ran the State department to his own taste.

The country at that time was hipped on neutrality to the nth degree. Moore went the whole hog in disclosing previous confidential information regarding Spanish arms shipments, and encouraging his former colleagues in Congress to rush through a new embargo against countries engaged in "civil strife."

Hull and Welles came back a few weeks later, to find that all previous American precedents had been violated. The Spanish embargo was an actual fact. Both expressed hearty disagreement with Moore's policy. But it was too late. Moore never got to be under secretary, but the Spanish embargo, result of his ambition, probably will help remake the map of Europe.

Last Vestige

Prodded by his burning passion to be the Democratic presidential candidate in 19, the once militant New Dealism of Henry Wallace is rapidly dwindling to microscopic dimensions.

A few weeks ago he shocked his colleagues by opposing an anti-monopoly drive against the cement trust, but now he has gone one better.

Wallace went to the president and complained about the quiet support being given to Representative Otha Wearin, 35-year-old administration supporter, in his campaign to unseat Iowa's Old Guard Senator Guy Gillette.

Gillette has been a thorn in Roosevelt's side since his election to an unexpired term. He opposed the president on the court issue and has thrown harpoons into administration measures with almost unbroken regularity. Wearin entered the race against Gillette with private Roosevelt blessing and the inner circle has been doing everything it can to help him.

After all this, Wallace's aggrieved protest against support for Wearin kicked up a furious row behind the scenes. Wallace is even being accused of "sacrificing" Wearin in order to ingratiate himself with the Iowa Democratic machine, thus win backing for his presidential ambitions.

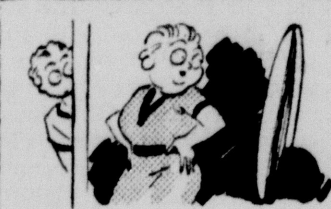

The row has extended to the

YOUR OPINION —

The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea. (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1—

1. If anything better than the high witness chair could be devised to insure that witnesses would not—and often could not—tell the truth, I can't imagine what it would be. They are likely to show off and make dramatic, imaginary statements or else to become so confused they really don't know what they are saying. Witnesses should be examined quietly by a few competent judges, psychologists, social workers and physicians, and the brow-beating lawyer kicked down the back stairs.

Answer to Question No. 2—

2. Certainly, there are a number of reasons. Mothers nowadays are far younger than ever before. They often have that delightful attractiveness that comes only from maturity and the poise and grace developed only by experience.

Answer to Question No. 3—

3. The teacher is right when she says the awkward age is to some extent inherited, but wrong in saying it can't be overcome. It is, of course, due to the fact that each sex becomes gradually aware of a vast new world—the opposite sex. If the boy or girl has been timid—either from natural timidity or from being scolded and ridiculed—this new world makes him more self-conscious and awkward. More boys than girls experience the awkward age but whether because girls naturally have more self-confidence or are reared differently is unknown. However, the remedy is for parents to teach them social behavior and for the boy or girl to get interested in other people and thus forget themselves. A good trait-scout will soon notice several boys and girls that do not show the awkward age at all. Try to find why.

CARDS AREN'T SAME OUTFIT MINUS DIZZY

Rookie Gas Housers Show Promise Of Reviving Team

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The old gas house gang ain't what it used to be. In fact it hardly has recovered from the shock received when its great mouthpiece, Dizzy Dean, was sold up the river to Chicago. But with a flock of new gas housers beginning to show promise, the St. Louis Cardinals may have their usual place to say about the National League pennant race.

Latest to encourage the fans' hope that St. Louis may cause trouble in the National League pennant chase are Lon Warneke, veteran right hander, and the new battery of Bill McGee and Herb Bremer.

Warneke has won his last two starts in fine style. McGee, getting his first trial as a starting pitcher, probably clinched a job as a ball player as well as job player in Pepper Martin's band when he limited the Boston Bees to six hits and fanned six to outpoint the able Lou Pette 3 to 2. Bremer, who may fill the Cards' demand for a regular catcher, provided the first two runs with a homer and Don Gutierrez made the third the same way.

Credited with Victory

Meanwhile Dean, who retired from a game last week with a sore pitching arm, worked his flipper for seven good innings against the Phillies and got credit for Chicago's 5-2 victory. Diz was hit hard and looked tired when he turned over the job to Charley Root, but the Cubs gave him enough support to make up for any shortcomings. Along with expert fielding, young Joe Barty produced a homer to send Chicago into the lead and old Gabby Hartnett clinched the decision with another.

The victory put the Cubs closer to the top as Cincinnati's Reds brought the New York Giants' 11-game winning streak to an undignified end by licking the league leaders 10 to 2. While Paul Derringer pitched eight-hit ball, the Reds collected six runs and the game in the fifth when Hal Schumacher found his old-time jinx over Cincinnati was no longer effective.

Star Rookie Wins

Brooklyn's star rookie, Forrest Pressnell, handed the Pittsburgh Pirates their fifth straight defeat as the Dodgers manufactured a six-run seventh inning to win 7-2. The American league standings were shuffled as Philadelphia's Athletics, whose status closely resembles that of the Cards, hopped from eighth to sixth place and both the Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees slid past Washington.

With Buck Ross hurling five-hit ball and getting the benefit of a six-run outburst in the third, the A's trimmed the Chicago White Sox 7 to 2. Cleveland's league leaders outlasted the Senators, 10 to 9 as Ken Keltner, rookie third sacker, clouted two homers and a single to give six runs.

Grove Goes 10 Innings

Old Lefty Grove, who pitches with his head as much as with his arm these days, went ten innings to beat Detroit 4-3 for his third victory and to become the eighth flinger in major league history to register 2,000 strikeouts. He whiffed six and would have had a lot easier time if he hadn't thrown home run balls to Hank Greenberg and Charley Gehringer. Lefty also contributed a sacrifice to the winning score.

Twelve Players Ranked On New Tennis 'Ladder,' More Urged to Compete

Different System Launched To Settle City Title

Competition begins today for the 1938 city tennis championship, the winner of which will be presented with the handsome Malay Cup to be offered as usual by the Dixon Evening Telegraph, Monday, September 5, Labor Day.

At a meeting of interested players held in the Telegraph office Tuesday night, a new ranking system was presented and approved which it is believed will stimulate interest in tennis to a new high pitch and sustain this interest throughout the summer.

On the basis of their performance in the second annual Telegraph city tournament last summer, the five best players in Dixon were ranked outright as follows: Howard Quick, No. 1; Ken Smith, No. 2; William Rusk, No. 3; Clifford Flanagan, No. 4; Garland Sinow, No. 5. George Covert, 1937 champion is not in Dixon at the present time to defend his title. He may do so if he returns later. The present system permits all players not yet ranked to gain a ranking position by challenging the bottom player on the list and working their way up by successive challenges.

Other players who were present at the meeting last night attained their ranking positions on the "ladder" as it now stands by drawing numbers from the hat. These players are listed as follows: Alan Wieman, No. 6; Robert Buxton, No. 7; Robert McNamara, No. 8; Ward Smith, No. 9; Robert Kline, No. 10; Charles Kearney, No. 11; and Gene Goddard, No. 12. Any player not present at the meeting and wishing to be ranked may gain a position on the "ladder," provided he challenges and defeats Gene Goddard the last man on the present list, as No. 12. If the newcomer should defeat Goddard, the latter would be demoted to No. 13 and the newcomer would take Goddard's present position as No. 12.

On the Labor Day weekend, Sunday and Monday, September 4 and 5, a tournament will be held for the top eight players on the "ladder" as it stands at that date, and the winner of this elimination event will be crowned 1938 champion and winner of the Malay Cup.

Following are the rules for 1938 city tennis championship competition sponsored by the Dixon Evening Telegraph for the third straight year.

(1) All those who wish to gain position on the "ladder" must start from the bottom and work up. The challenger will challenge the last player ranked on the list.

(2) The party challenged to a match must accept the challenge within three days or forfeit his position on the "ladder" to the challenger. In this manner all players will promote or demote themselves.

(3) The bottom player on the "ladder" if defeated by a player not yet ranked will lose his position but will be demoted to a position just below the newcomer thereby adding one name to the "ladder."

"CHIP SHOTS"

Country Club

The opening Men's Day at the Country club tomorrow promises to be one of the best events of its kind in recent years. All members, both new and old, are urged to attend the festivities which will begin in the afternoon and continue on and past the fried chicken dinner which will be held at 7:30. Reservations should be made for the dinner at once.

Bill Foster has arranged two tournaments which should encourage each member to compete in them whether they are bona fide experts or just rank beginners. The first of these tournaments is a punchboard blind bogie, that is each player will punch his handicap from a board having numbers from 1 to 50. The master blind bogie number will, of course, be pulled when all players have completed their round. The first prize will consist of golf balls will be awarded to the player hitting blind bogie or nearest above. Second prize will be next lowest to blind bogie. Third prize will be an entry fee of 25c. It is designed so that all types of players will have a chance to finish in the money. First prize will be for the most pars on the first nine holes played, and if you don't already know, nine holes may easily be played after five o'clock noon. Second prize will be awarded to the player making the most fives on the first nine holes played. (First prize takes care of the boys who know and PLAY their golf.) Second prize is for the mediums, who know but do not quite play it. Third prize, of course, takes care of you know who (or whom?) for it will be awarded to the highest score for the first nine holes!

The clubhouse is in the process of being newly decorated. The entire first floor has been newly painted in harmonizing and pleasing colors. (George Beier please note). The ping-pong tables will again be in use this year. The basement and shower room has been put in first class order. All players wishing lockers should immediately reserve theirs from Bill Foster, for they are going fast!

Another injection of pep into the club activities for 1938 was given by Bill Foster when he announced that there will be a sweepstakes tournament every Sunday morning throughout the year. The tournament will be similar to that conducted on the opening Men's Day.

KENTUCKY DERBY FIELD IS SMALL BUT TALENTED

Eleven Horses Considered
Definite Starters
Saturday

Louisville, Ky., May 4.—(AP)—The stage is all set, the principal actors selected and only a minor role or two remains to be filled for the 64th matinee performance of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday.

It'll be a small cast, probably not more than a dozen, but it'll be one studded with stars vying for the spotlight that'll be thrown on the winner of America's most famous horse race. Then too there is always the possibility that some minor actor will steal the show, when they come thundering through that last quarter-mile.

Eleven horses are considered definite starters and there is a possibility that another one or two may be added. If less than twelve face the barrier it'll be the smallest field since Twenty Grand hung up the Derby record of 2:01 1/2, in 1931. Firmly entrenched as the public choice for the $50,000 show over a mile and a quarter is the combination of Stagehand and The Chief, owned by Maxwell Howard of Dayton, Ohio, and trained by the one and only Earl Sande. Playing the leading roles is nothing new for Sande and Stagehand. The earl did it three times at the Downs when he was a jockey. Stagehand starred in the rich Santa Anita derby and Handicap last winter.

Something New

But to The Chief, it'll be something new. Until yesterday's trial stakes he was considered just a good running mate for Stagehand. The experts were saying he'd probably set a burning pace for six furlongs or a mile and then drop out in favor of his more illustrious stablemate.

Now these same experts are not so sure but what The Chief will be able to take care of matters himself. He did it yesterday with a track record equalling performance that whippet Herbert M. Woolf's Lawrin, by a nose and left Stagehand five lengths in his wake. The time for the mile was 1:35 1/2, after The Chief and Lawrin had reeled off the first six furlongs in the almost unbelievable time of 1:10 3/5.

The Chief was showing no signs of weakening at the end but Stagehand was tired. Even Sande admitted that but declared he had not lost faith in his star.

"He needed the race to put him in shape," said Sande. "Now, just as I told you the other day, I have two horses instead of one for the others to beat."

Lawrin was the only other leading Derby contender in the field but his race, run under the handicap of wearing four bar plates to protect tender feet, indicated a new Derby record is within the realm of possibility. When Trainer Ben Jones removes the plates Saturday, the Kansas City-owned colt should be ready to really burn oil.

Forrest Pressnell, Dodgers—Scattered Pirates' ten hits in gaining 7-2 decision.

Lou Gehrig, Yankees—Broke out of slump with home run and double that helped whip Browns, 5-1.

Lefty Grove, Reds—Struck out six and helped score winning run in ten innings, 4-3 defeat of Tigers.

Lee Ross and Gene Hasson, Athletics—Former set back White Sox, 7-2 on five hits; latter drove in three runs with triple and single.

Joe Mauer, Cubs—Sixth-inning home run provided deciding run in 5-2 trouncing of Phillies.

Bill McGee, Cardinals—Gave up only six hits, fanned six and walked but one as Cards nosed out Bees, 3-2.

Butcher Boys Make Mince Meat Out of Cement Plant Ten

The Butcher Boys "slaughtered" the cement plant ten to the tune of 21 to 11. The Butcher Boys are a newly organized team but they play like a veteran outfit.

The assault was led by the following getting home runs off the pitcher of A. Williams, Murphy, Bush, Page, Chiverton, Naylor, and Bovey, totaling 7 home runs throughout the game. Jensen took the pitching honors for the Butcher Boys, looking like a big leaguer. The Butcher Boys have a scheduled game to be held next Sunday, May 8, at Lowell Park. They are one of the many softball teams now springing up within the city. Revival of the old city softball league is expected soon.

RED HAIL HAS OCCURRED IN VARIOUS REGIONS OF THE EARTH.

RED HAIL is caused by fine dust in the atmosphere, blown up from red soil, and frozen into the hailstones. Red rain and snow have been quite common occurrences in the past few years, when red soil from the Oklahoma dust bowl was carried into the atmosphere by high winds.

The Boxwood Barrier

By BLANCHE SMITH FERGUSON

Chapter 44 Just One More Chance

If Judith had been harassed and uncertain before she wrote to Reuben, she was swept into an avalanche of bewilderment now. Had she acted too hastily? Would Reuben be disgusted by her lack of restraint? Had she been too humble? Suppose he didn't answer? Suppose—

Then there was Gary to be reckoned with. Not that she had any illusions about Gary—the last one had died, struggling—but it had been a long time since she had seen him. He would be furious because he was not to have his own way, but he would be.

She couldn't associate great distress or deep grief with Gary unless the mishap was physical and purely personal to Gary; however, Gary must be reckoned with.

Time dragged like a snail—it flew on hummingbird's wings. There were three days left until Christmas. There were two days. There was one day. It was Christmas Eve—no word from Reuben—no word!

Jim came down the hall, stood looking at the bravely bedecked pine. "The prettiest tree we've ever had. The kids will adore it."

"Yes," Judith agreed tensely. Jim shot his sister a quick appraising glance. "Want to go with me for crow's-foot? They—" he indicated the gilt framed Goodloes, "must be decorated. It's funny a man must die before he gets a wreath of living green." He turned away. "Want to come?"

Judith came down the ladder. "Wait 'til I get a coat."

Outside the world was softly gray, with sharp little gusts of wind and soft little flurries of snow. A day that seemed to proclaim the world was doing its best to make ready for the blessed peace that was to descend upon it at midnight.

Peace! There was none of it in Judith's heart. None in Jim's. Saying little they walked side by side across frozen fields; climbed a rail fence and entered a dim, stark wood. The path ran between hills. There was little wind here. A dry, woody smell. Dead rustling leaves—

"Don't you love it, Jim?"

"The place? Better than anything, I guess."

She followed him across the little stream. Thin ice bordered its edges. On a sloping hillside, almost hidden by dead leaves, creeping cedar made a bright green carpet. Ah—here was a tiny root of bitter-sweet. And suddenly, she was back three years. Was in Fordney's Gulch—the deepest, muddiest part of it—with Reuben. They were searching for bitter-sweet, pine cones, spruce tassels—anything that would relieve the drabness of their first Christmas in the despoiled little house in Casper Street. The afternoon had been warm, sultry. The ground soft. She had slipped in the red mud and Reuben had caught her, held her close.

"Eat Humble Pie!"

Judith's busy fingers tightened around the crow's-foot. If just once more she could hear the steady beat of Reuben's heart. Feel his arms—a protecting wall—

An unbidden tear trickled down her nose. Ashamed she brushed it away, looked up quickly to meet Jim's worried, dark eyes.

"You, too, Judy?"

She nodded. For a long moment they basted themselves with the evergreen; Jim said: "I've made ducks and drakes of my life."

"I've messed mine up, too, Jim."

"Debt again, Jim?"

"Debt again, Jim?"

"Personal?"

"Not entirely. Gran is involved, too. My fault." His slim brown hands became suddenly idle. A shadow darkened his face. "I can't figure it out, yet. That stock deal looked so good."

"They always do."

"I've learned my lesson, Judy. If I could only have one more chance."

"One more chance!" She echoed it prayerfully. "I guess we miss heaven by just one chance."

Jim stuffed crow's-foot into the burlap bag. He avoided looking at his sister. He said: "It's Oliver's fault?"

"Mine."

"Then eat humble pie, old dear. Make it up."

"I've tried. Too late."

"I didn't guess. I was afraid maybe—it was Gary."

"It was—at first. I had a—sort of obsession for years. I'm cured."

She wound a handful of the creeper into a bundle and stuffed it into the bag. "I'm home to stay, Jim. You'll have to help me raise my children."

"You think I'm fit, Judy?"

"I know you are."

"Gosh! I'd like to teach them to avoid my mistakes."

"Maybe we had to make them, Jim. We'll not shield the babies as we were shielded. We'll put responsibilities upon them."

"Poor little tads! With me at the helm I guess they're in for plenty."

"They must not grow up believing all the soft spots are theirs by divine right while all the rocky ones are the other fellows' share."

"I get you," Jim arose from his knees. "Hold the sack, Judy."

He took a piece of twine from his pocket and tied the bulging bag carefully. He said: "I'm sorry you're unhappy, but I can't help being glad you're here and that you need me. I've never been needed you know."

It was pitifully true. Judith said nothing.

Jim said: "If you need me, I can make a new start, Judy. Run myself and my affairs differently."

Make Gran see I must turn dirt farmer—Make the land pay instead of eating up itself—and us. Watch me!"

There was a new look on Jim's dark face as he swung the sack to his shoulder. "I guess there's always another chance if we hunt for it. You'll find yours, too, Judy."

"Losing Your Nerve"

Christmas Day. Its routine never varied as Goodloes' Choice. On this day there were never dinner guests. Just the family sat down to the beautifully appointed table—Irish linen, thin old silver, vivid poinsettia. Amos in livery waited.

Jim carved the turkey. Amanda lighted the plum pudding. When the last dish was cleared away she toasted the family in egg nog of her own making: "To Goodloes—past, present and future!"

She looked regal in soft white. Amanda always wore white on Christmas day. She had been a Christmas bride. Standing, Jim and Judith drank the toast down: "To Goodloes—past, present and future!"

Jim's dark eyes twinkled above his glass. Jim had real work ahead—two kids to raise. He was happier than he had been for years. Judith tried to return the twinkle. Her drink was gall upon her lips—Reuben hadn't answered—not one word—

Maybe he hadn't received the letter—she had to cling to that—maybe he had gone to Warder. There wasn't any mail today, but tomorrow—

Laughing, talking, praising the lovely old pin Gran had given her from her treasures, making a bet with Jim on Paddy O'Hare—Paddy was to have his try out this afternoon—Judith got through the dinner hour. Maybe Reuben hadn't got the letter—

Dick Blout arrived and—Gary, ready for the cross country ride. The former looked like Santa Claus—pockets bulging, ruddy face beaming. Greedily the twins fell upon him, while Judith and Gary started for the paddock. The hour of reckoning had arrived.

Gary was in a fine fettle. "I'm a living bureau of information on Reno, darling. I know the name of a fine lawyer. I've located a swell small hotel where you can be comfortable and obscure. The wheels are going to move so easily you'll hardly know you're getting a divorce. Just do your act well tonight—Want me to drop a hint to Gran?"

"No." She was looking at him intently, but Gary felt she didn't see him, hadn't heard him. He said: "What's the matter? Losing your nerve—again?"

"No, I was wondering about that timber deal."

"Timber deal! Wake up, Judith. I was speaking of our future. This is no time to bother about timber."

"I just wanted to know if those pines were cut—the ones that caused the trouble between you and Reuben."

"They were cut," grimly. "I put the deal over. Did you think I wouldn't?"

"I was afraid you would."

Something in her voice made him look at her intently. "Afraid?"

"Those trees were unfit."

Sudden, glaring anger stained Gary's face. "The time has come for you to decide definitely whom you believe—Oliver or me."

"I have decided. Reuben told the truth."

"You take the word of that—that nobody against mine?" He couldn't believe his ears. "You're stark mad, Judith! You're morbid. Upset about going to Reno."

"I'm not going to Reno."

"Throwing me down?" banter.

ingly. He couldn't believe she was serious.

"I'm sorry."

"Sorry?" Rage threatened to choke him. "If you're hoping to go back to Oliver—"

"I am," hating herself for admitting it.

"Snap out of it, darling! Cissy Rogers and Clem are at the Curtis camp. Cissy told me Reuben was arriving there today, from wherever he's been hiding."

The blood drained from Judith's heart. It was just a numb lump of ice in her chest. Reuben was with Cissy—He didn't care for her; for the babies—

EXTENSION OF CREDIT NEEDED FOR PROSPERITY

Must Be Wisely And Carefully Sought by Purchaser

The experience of business over a long period of time has proven to us that sound extension of credit is fundamental to prosperity. The ability of individuals to purchase homes, furniture, automobiles and many other items out of income has stimulated industry by increasing the purchasing power of the consumer. Retail credit by distributing the greatest amount of merchandise to the greatest number of people, has benefited the producer, the merchant, and the customer.

When we say retail credit has benefited those concerned, we refer to that credit which has been wisely and carefully sought by the purchaser; that credit which has been extended wisely by the merchant, with due regard for the customer's ability and desire to pay. Thus we see that the basis for this extension of credit is character. In other words, can he, does he, and will he pay?

"Charge It, Please"

This phase of a person's business activity should receive his or her serious consideration. Did you ever stop to think that when you purchase an article and say, "Charge it, please," you ask the merchant to lend you the amount of money indicated by the price tag? If you fail to pay our account as agreed are you not using his money? And if you fail (as some do) to pay the account at all, have you not taken that which was not yours? Everytime you pay an account promptly you are carving another step in your climb to success; you strengthen your reputation for honesty and good character. Each obligation promptly paid causes valuable information to be deposited to your credit bureau.

credit in a storehouse known as "the credit bureau."

Daniel Webster once said, "Credit has done a thousand times more to enrich mankind than all the gold mines in the world." If your card, which the credit bureau has filed, says you have consistently paid your grocer, butcher, dentist, doctor, landlord, etc. promptly then you have something as valuable as gold itself, because that kind of a record will obtain for you things you need when you need them.

The credit bureau has many thousands of individuals listed. What does your card say? What it says you have caused it to say, but is it what you want it to say? Resolve now to have it say, "He pays his house rent promptly, he pays his department store accounts by the 10th of each month for the previous month's purchases, he discharges his utility bills, he pays his installment accounts as agreed upon in his contract; he treats his credit as a sacred trust."

When attacked by man, the puff adder shams death by rolling over on its back. If turned over on its stomach, it gives its whole act over again by rolling itself belly-up again.

In the southeastern portions of the United States, iron ore deposits commonly are overgrown with cedar in much thicker growths than are found in non-iron bearing soil.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

EASY AS A-B-C TO OWN A PACKARD SIX SINCE PRICE WAS REDUCED $100

A. HOW MUCH IS THE DOWN PAYMENT?

ONLY $391⁰⁰

And this is not for the lowest-priced body type, but for the big 4-door Touring Sedan! Furthermore, if your present car is of average value, it will probably cover this low down payment!

B. HOW MUCH MORE A MONTH THAN THE SMALLER CAR NOW OWN?

MUCH LESS THAN YOU THINK

Payments on a Packard Six usually run not over $2 to $6 a month more than those on several widely-sold smaller cars. And this is figuring on the popular 18-months' basis, after minimum required down payment.

C. HOW MUCH MORE DOES IT COST TO RUN THAN SMALLER CARS?

LITTLE (IF ANY) MORE

And we can prove this with actual figures that show comparative costs for Packard and other cars which you may have in mind.

YOUR EYES WILL OPEN when you see the figures which prove that almost anyone can afford any new car now can probably afford a Packard! Think of the kick you'll get out of owning a big, luxurious 122-inch wheelbase Packard Six! And remember, though the price was cut, the car itself hasn't been changed one iota! Don't buy any car till you get the facts! Come in, drive this stunning Packard—then see if any other car can please you half as much.
